What Re Imposing of Restrictions means for Club Activities

Well, here we go again. Lockdown number 5 in progress, and the uncertainty of life with Covid continues. Numbers of new cases increases daily, even with the restrictions, so who knows how long this one will go on.

We all await the announcements in the coming weeks to see what type of activities can be resumed on a club level, which all depend on ability to move around and the limits on gatherings.

There are several big events that have been planned over the next 2 months around the state, including the American Motoring Show being presented by the AOMC. All organisers of these events will be hoping they can still go ahead, and we encourage your members to support these events if possible as plenty of work and financial risk has gone into their preparation.

The forthcoming AOMC Delegates meeting which was being planned to be held at a regional venue in mid August will probably not be able to go ahead as we had planned. Clubs will be advised of details when we are in a position to pass them on.

Clubs are advised to constantly monitor the Department of Health and Human Services website for latest news and updates on rules and restrictions when organising club meetings and gatherings.

Clubs are also encouraged to reach out to their members to make sure they are dealing with the uncertainties and isolation they may be feeling, as there is bound to be many people in clubland who are struggling at present. The advice given by our guest speaker from Beyond Blue at the May meeting is very pertinent.:

If you see someone who appears to be suffering:

- Ask if they are OK,
- Tell them why you are asking,
- If they are not ready to talk, let them know it is OK,
- Resist the temptation to give advice or diagnose.

AOMC August Delegates' meeting Saturday 14th August 2021

At present the AOMC is adhering to this date to hold a face to face delegates meeting, but with the current lockdown in place until at least July 27 and the uncertainty of how much restrictions will ease, this situation will be monitored on a daily basis and clubs will be advised of what the final details of the meeting will be via email.

There will be a meeting of club delegates, either in person or via zoom, with a possible change of time and date depending on what covid restrictions allow at the time.

Clubs should have all received the Department of Transport's proposed changes to the Club Permit Scheme, and many have made submissions on the various points. The AOMC thanks all those who made submissions, many of which were excellently drafted and raised pertinent points.

Below we have reproduced an article on the subject that appeared in 'The Age' newspaper on July 17, which ran with a disturbing headline for us in the movement. AOMC president Iain Ross was interviewed as part of the article.

Days of cheap rego loophole for 'classic' cars could be numbered

By Tom Cowie

The Age July 17, 2021

Daniel Paproth loves his 1985 Honda City, even though others might not consider it a classic. He describes the colour as either lime green or highlighter yellow.

"It's a beast," he said. "An absolute weapon. I always wanted a car that suited my extra personality."

Attached to the front and rear of his compact Japanese hatchback are a set of maroon number plates, which entitle it to cheaper registration than regular cars as part of Victoria's club permit scheme for historic vehicles.

But while Mr Paproth fills out a logbook to show he only uses his car less than once a week, there are concerns that others are rorting the system for commuting or work.

The scheme is clearly attractive to those looking for a loophole to save a buck. A 45-day permit costs just $120 each year, compared with $850 for standard vehicle registration. There is also a 90-day option costing $195.

"I love it, it's brilliant for my purposes," he said. "It would be a much harder decision about keeping the car if it didn't exist. It's not a daily driver."

The Department of Transport is currently conducting a review of Victoria's road rules, with access to the club permit scheme and its cheap rego set to be tightened.

Among the changes being proposed is an increase to the age for an eligible car from 25 to 30 years, while new penalties will also be considered for those who breach the rules

Iain Ross, president of the Association of Motoring Clubs, said that a major issue with the scheme at the moment was there was no definition of what vehicles were eligible.

"It doesn't matter once a car turns 25, it can be an old truck or a rusty Ford Laser," he said.

"That's meant a lot of daily drivers are slipping onto the scheme when they turn 25 years old. We need to define what constitutes a classic or historic vehicle, it's a very difficult task."

The matter of average motors getting around on club plates has become enough of a sore point that a Twitter page, @ShitCarsOnClubRego, was set up to document them.

"Classic" models featured on the page include the Toyota Seca, Nissan Pintara, Mitsubishi Magna, and Ford Meteor.

As part of its review, the department highlighted problems of some people not complying with the club permit scheme's requirements.

One issue was that some people were using cars for commercial purposes, such as driving tools to work as part of a landscaping business or hiring out vehicles for weddings.

Another was that cars were being driven more than the 45 or 90 days allocated. Drivers are required to fill out their log book whenever they drive more than 100 metres.

For those who don't follow the rules, Victoria Police can issue a $908 fine for driving an unregistered vehicle. The Department of Transport is proposing an additional $363 fine as a specific log book offence.

Mr Ross also said that genuine motoring enthusiasts had a problem with car clubs being set up purely to take advantage of the discount registration. Under the rules, an owner needs to join a club before getting a permit.

"We are concerned about the number of clubs formed only to get vehicles on to the scheme," he said.

"There's clubs with tiny memberships, there's other clubs that are clearly businesses. These are not genuine clubs."

Of the 1057 clubs currently registered as part of the scheme, the Department of Transport said 462 clubs had 10 or fewer vehicles. Seventy two were one-car clubs.

A department spokesperson said there was no intention to ban one-vehicle clubs and that the changes to the age eligibility would not be retrospective.

"We're considering feedback on a number of proposed changes, including measures to protect the integrity of the scheme and to bring it into line with other states," the spokesperson said.

"There are significant penalties for breaches to log book requirements and new penalties are being considered to improve compliance and remove loopholes."

Mr Paproth said he fell in love with the Honda City after seeing some friends drive one around Australia as part of the Shitbox Rally raising money for charity.

He paid around $2600 for it and reckons it has good resale value.

"I just love it so much, it's comfy, it's fun to drive," he said.

"It's a complete death trap, if I was in any minor accident. I would be in trouble because it's so small, there's no airbags or other safety features.

"But I'm always getting waves and honks from other drivers and I love it."

Australian National Show and Shine Euroa—Sunday October 3rd.

EUROA SHOW PLANS FOR “GO”.

With the Covid-19 pandemic still casting a cloud of uncertainty over the running of the Australian National Show and Shine – Euroa on Sunday October 3rd, the committee continues to plan for the “best possible” scenario for the running of the event.

To date, the enthusiasm for the show from sponsors and exhibitors alike has been outstanding. With many potential attendees seeking information about the event, the growing list of interested motor clubs is already impressive.

The Mercedes Benz Club Victoria will display more than fifteen cars, including the immortal classic 300SL “Gullwing” of Patrick Devine. Mr. Devine became the sixth owner of the car in 1984, and has exhibited it at the Euroa Show on previous occasions. Converted to RHD around 1963, the Gullwing’s 3.0 litre slant 6 engine is the optional high-performance version developing 240bhp (180kW) and comes with a 180mph speedo.

Majestic Vanners, winners of the 2019 Best Club Exhibit award, will return with the aim of creating a “rainbow effect” by lining up twenty plus panel vans to replicate the colours of a rainbow! Spokesman Bret Kirwan said that they had performed this visual trick at a show in South Australia, with spectacular results for the crowd of spectators.

Perennial favourites, Central Victorian Corvettes will once again occupy Area 1 along the pathway with a display of around fifteen cars, intent on taking the “Best Club Display” trophy back from the Vanners.

The Victorian Monaro and Jaguar clubs are also scheduled to attend, with Jaguar again supporting the Darryl Twitt Motors display of new Jaguar and other cars.

Featuring in the motor cycle area will be Charlie Palmer, an expatriate Euroa man now residing in Sydney, with his 1937 Harley-Davidson “knucklehead”. The bike might be 84 years of age, but it still punches well above its weight in terms of performance. Together with the considerable talents of Charlie its rider, the knucklehead won the 2003 Australian Historic Championships, and recently added another win by taking out the legendary Sellick’s Beach race for historic motor cycles in South Australia earlier this year.

Show and Shine Motorcycle Manager, Glenn MacDonald said that Ducati bikes will be a special feature in displays for this event.

Over in Seven Creeks area five, the speedway stand will feature the Craig McDowell / Angie Luscombe FJ Holden restoration of local speedway legend Alan Luscombe. And talking about speedway legends, the ex-Barry Myers Camaro of Rick Pedler will return, together with Mr. Pedler's Pontiac Firebird.

With the theme for this year's event being the 1920s, Euroa hopes to display Judy McGrath's 1927 Capitol Chev as a feature around centre stage, together with the possibilities of a 1920s Austin 7 powered race car together with a Norton motorcycle – both still to be confirmed. 1920s vehicles are encouraged, and there will be prizes for the best 1920s costumes by both men and women, as well as trophies for "Best 1920s" car and bike.

There will be more than seventy trophies on offer across a great variety of car and bike classes.

Patrick O'Brien, winner of our 2019 event's GMCU Best in Show, will return with his immaculate 350 Monaro with the ambition of taking out the Euroa Show and Shine's first-ever "two-in-a-row". There will be plenty of other entries who are equally determined that this will not happen!

The iconic Euroa Show and Shine, now well established as one of the top motor and bike shows in Victoria, will continue to offer top value family entertainment for motoring enthusiasts, with live music, kids' entertainment, the Euroa mini railway and food & market stalls throughout the parks. Entrance fees will remain at an extremely affordable $10 for display cars including driver, $5 for display bikes including rider, $5 entrance fee for adults with kids under 12 free.

Show and Shine President Ross Holt emphasised that if the show does go ahead, it will be a ticketed event only, under COVIDsafe conditions, with tickets available on line. Information and a ticketing link URL will be provided on the Euroa Show and Shine Website and Facebook page about a month prior to the event.

A firm decision on the running of the Euroa Show and Shine should be made around mid-August, and will depend on the approval of permits and the status of the Pandemic. In the meantime, the committee will keep prospective attendees advised on a regular basis on the Euroa Show and Shine Facebook and Web pages.
